ANIC Condemns Recent Australian Government Vote in the UN

It is a matter of great humanitarian concern that 60 unarmed Palestinians have recently been killed by the Israeli Forces, and a further 2700 injured.

As Australians, we are shocked to hear that Australia was one of only two countries (alongside the US) to vote against a resolution of the United Nations Human Rights Council to investigate this horrific incident.

The Australian National Imams Council and the Australian Muslim Community condemn this decision in the strongest terms and demand a more neutral and impartial stance from our Australian Government as exercised by the overwhelming majority of nations around the world.

It seems unfathomable that anyone seeking justice would deliberately take steps to block an impartial investigation from taking place, one which would result in facts being uncovered and justice being done.

ANIC calls on all compassionate and fair minded people to stand against injustice wherever they see it, by any lawful means necessary and to uphold universal and the true Australian values of being fair and just to all.
